A BBQ grill inside a wooden cabin? What a silly idea we hear you say! However, 1,000's of happy customers throughout the UK have been enjoying socialising with friends and family in their BBQ huts for over 20 years.

These quirky looking cabins originate from Scandinavia and offer a cosy setting for use all year round. They seat between 10 and 21 people depending on the cabin size you choose. We even have a cabin with a bar inside so you can cook and drink to your heart's content.

Why not opt for some bench cushions to add even more comfort to your cabin? Our cushions are handmade in the UK and add the perfect finish to your BBQ hut.

from £670

LED Lights

We also offer LED lights with a remote control (electricity supply not included). They create a great atmosphere in the cabin, and you can change the colours to suit the mood!

from £450

Table Top

We know you might not always use your BBQ whilst in your cabin, so our table top is perfect for turning your grill into more usable surface space for nibbles and drinks!

£300

Tall Spark Guard

Our cabins are all supplied with our standard spark guard to minimise the risk of hot embers escaping. We also offer this optional Tall Spark Guard should you need it.

from £300

HOW DOES IT LOOK?

The shape of the base will match the shape of your cabin. It will either be hexagonal or octagonal in shape depending on the size of your cabin, allowing it to blend seamlessly with the aesthetic of the building.

Hexagonal base
(for 7m² & 10m²)
From £750

Octagonal base
(for 14m² & 17m²)
From £1,200

HOW IS IT CONSTRUCTED?

Joists span the base providing even support across the whole floor.

Composite resin posts are concreted into the ground and attached to the base frame, providing solid support to your cabin. The posts can be cut to the desired length allowing us to accommodate sloping ground.

The frame and joists are made from 150mm x 45mm pressure treated (tanalised) construction grade timber.

Composite posts

HOW DOES IT WORK?

The composite posts attach to the timber base frame and penetrate the ground. The posts are individually encased in concrete to lock them into position and provide years of support.

The posts allow the base frame to be slightly elevated above the ground which provides constant air flow underneath the cabin. This feeds oxygen to the BBQ unit allowing it to operate properly.

WILL IT WORK IN MY GARDEN?

Our base system is the most versatile option available and is suitable for a range of ground conditions.

One advantage to our base system is that we can easily work with sloping ground without the need to excavate or flatten the ground itself. The base frame is levelled using the posts. Some steps and additional base cladding may be required.

If you have an old concrete base or patio area that is covering part of the cabin location, we can often accommodate this with our base system. Some posts rest on the existing hardstanding, whilst the remainder are concreted into the ground as normal.

ARE THERE ANY OTHER BASE OPTIONS?

You can utilise your existing patio or other hardstanding area providing it is solid and flat. If you are using an existing base we will need to add a sub-frame to provide the required air-flow underneath the cabin.

If you would prefer to install a new concrete base we will be happy to provide you with our vented concrete base guide free of charge.
